

Privacy Notice Last updated: February 3, 2022

Welcome to the Privacy Notice for www.racerocksmedia.com. This notice outlines the privacy practices that pertain exclusively to the information collected by this website. It provides you with the following information:

The nature of personally identifiable information collected from you through the website, its usage, and potential sharing.

The security measures in place to safeguard against the misuse of your information.

Steps for correcting any inaccuracies in the collected information.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing We are the exclusive owners of the information collected via this site. We only gather information that you voluntarily provide us through email, forms, or other direct forms of contact. Rest assured, we will neither sell nor rent this information to any third party.

We utilize the information you provide to address your inquiries and requests. Your information will not be shared with external parties, except when necessary to fulfill your specific requests.

Unless you indicate otherwise, we may contact you in the future via email to inform you about promotions, new products or services, and revisions to this privacy policy.

Cookies Our website might generate non-identifiable site usage data, such as pageviews and visitor counts, for internal purposes only. This statistical data is devoid of personal information and cannot be used to extract such details.

In some instances, our site might employ "cookies" to enhance your online experience. A cookie is a small text file placed on your hard drive by a web server. These cookies are specific to you and can be read only by the issuing web server in the relevant domain. You have the choice to accept or decline cookies, though declining might limit your access to interactive features on our platform.

Links to External Websites Please be aware that this website may feature links to other sites. However, we are not accountable for the content or privacy practices of these external sites. We encourage you to read the privacy policies of any visited sites that collect personally identifiable information.

Access and Control Over Information At any point, you can opt out of any future communication from us. For specific actions related to your data, such as viewing, correcting, or deleting, you can contact us through the provided email address or phone number on our website.

Security Your information is protected through precautionary measures. When sensitive information is submitted via the website, it is encrypted and securely transmitted to us. You can verify this by the presence of a lock icon in the address bar or the "https" prefix in the page address.

Our offline procedures also ensure information security. Only employees with relevant job roles are granted access to personally identifiable data, and the servers housing this information are kept in a secure environment.

Should you believe that we are not adhering to this privacy policy, please reach out to us immediately.
